National Energy Assistance
Directors' Association

NEADA is the primary education and policy organization for the state directors of the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program.

National Fuel Funds Network

NFFN convenes organizations and utilities that administer, promote and financially support charitable energy assistance programs.

At the Annual Conference, NFFN's 300 member organizations and companies and others exchange information, receive training and improve professional practice. NFFN members shape national policy initiatives, fashion NFFN programs and recognize achievement.

National Low Income Energy Consortium

NLIEC represents all segments of the low-income energy community and works toward coordinated solutions to low-income energy problems. NLIEC is dedicated to heightening awareness of the energy needs of low-income consumers and to developing and promoting innovative programs and public-private partnerships to address those needs.
